

How to Get from JFK Airport to Newark Airport

Option 1:

There is a shuttle available between Newark and JFK Airport, operated by ETS Air Shuttle. Follow signs to Ground Transportation and NY Airport Service. The shuttle is scheduled approx. every 30 minutes, but to confirm call. (718) 221-5341 The cost of this shuttle appears to be $52.00

<http://www.etsairportshuttle.com/>

Or for a less expensive, but much more complicated option:

Option 2:

After landing at New York JFK Airport, you should follow the signs to AirTrain. The airport's shuttle calls at all terminals every 7-15 minutes, around the clock. Despite being free for between-the-terminals rides, the trip to Jamaica Station will cost you $8.00 You can pay for your ticket at the automatic machines in Jamaica Station using cash or cards. Please be careful to use the Long Island Railroad (LIRR) automatic vendors and not the subway ones so as to purchase your LIRR ticket as well. After buying your LIRR ticket $4-12, you'll hop on the train to Penn Station in Manhattan. Keep the ticket at all times, as the train conductor will have to check it while onboard.

After arriving at Penn Station, you should buy your ticket from the station's machines or kiosks and hop on the NJ Transit train heading to Newark Airport Railroad Station $16.00. The NJ Transit ticket also includes the fare for the last required train ride to EWR, the transfer with the Newark AirTrain. Therefore, finally, you'll have to find the EWR AirTrain stop at Newark Airport Railroad Station. AirTrain runs to all EWR terminals (A, B and C).

View this option here: <https://youtu.be/2bsLm2BZW0g?feature=shared>